

GA RRT Stress Survey

The Georgia RRT Program in collaboration with the Washington RRT and Michigan RRT Programs, the Georgia Department of Behavioral Health and Developmental Disabilities, the Georgia Restaurant Association, and other key industry, state, and federal partners have collaborated on a survey developed to assess the impacts to food, agriculture, and hospitality workers during the COVID-19 Pandemic. This survey is being shared with both local and national representatives to afford a nationwide overview of impacts during COVID-19. This survey will provide greater situational awareness and will be utilized to inform recovery and resource priorities for these sectors.

The survey can be accessed at the following weblink: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/9LYCHSR> or a poster has been created to share at your establishment to access using this QR Code:

The survey will be open from noon on Monday, March 15, 2021 until midnight on Friday, April 2, 2021. We encourage employers, owners, and their staff to participate in the survey. All answers to the survey are confidential.

Some of the material in this survey may be triggering and it is common to react to some of it. Please give yourself permission to feel and permission to self-care after you have completed the survey. If you find yourself having strong reactions, please process with a peer, take those actions that work best for you or call the Georgia COVID-19 Emotional Support Line at 1-866-399-8938 or the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration's National Disaster Distress Helpline at 1-800-985-5990 in other jurisdictions.

For inquiries about the survey please contact Madison Cahill at Madison.Cahill@agr.georgia.gov, Coralís Rodríguez Morales at Coralis.Rodriguez-Morales@agr.georgia.gov, or Venessa Sims at Venessa.Sims@agr.georgia.gov.

We thank you in advance for contributing to this effort.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in blue ink that reads "Venessa Sims".

Venessa Sims, GA-CEM, MEP

Director of Emergency Management

Georgia Department of Agriculture

Venessa.Sims@agr.georgia.gov